EXCHANGE PAPERS.—We continue to receive by every

Among the distinguished strangers in our city at the present time, we observe the Hon. Truman Smith, of Connecticut, the Hon. Joseph R. Chandler, of Pennsylvania, and Gen. Leslie Coombs, of Kentucky.

Gen. Coombs is not a bit dismayed at his recent defeat for Congress; not a hair of his head is yet gray, although he commanded a company in the war with Great Britain, nearly forty years ago; and he says he will be found two years hence with his Whig armor on, triumphant place. in the cause which will then have redeemed the noble old Ashland Congressional District.

A PRESIDENTIAL DINNER PARTY came off at the White House yesterday. Among those present were several distinguished gentlemen from New Orleans, Messrs. Peters, Walton Mc-Alpin, &c.; Messrs. Corwin, Stuart, and Conrad, of the Cabinet; Mr. Thomas Ritchie, of Virginia, and William W. Corcoran, esq., the Banker, of this city. We understand the company had a fine time of it.

DEATH OF A PHILANTHROPIST .- Thomas H. Gallaudet died at his residence in Hartford, Connecticut, on Wednesday of this week. He was well known, says the New York Tribune, " as the founder of the system of education for the Deaf and Dumb, which has had such extensive prevalence in this country. He visited Europe in 1815, for the purpose of examining the methods of instruction for Deaf-mutes in England and France, and upon his returning to the United States in 1816 became the principal of the American Asylum at Hartford. He remained at the head of that institution until 1830, when he was appointed Chaplain to the Retreat for the Insane in Hartford. He continued to discharge the duties of this office until his last illness. Mr. Gallaudet was distinguished by his earnest, practical benevolence, his great sagacity, and his rare devotion to duty. His intellectual powers were above the common order. He was the author of several works, which show originality of thought and sermons, delivered to an English congregation at Paris, was published several years since, when the author was quite a young man. They are fine specimens of chaste and polished pulpit eloquence, written with a purity and simplicity, unusual among American preachers at that day."

NIAGABA FALLS-Rods, &c .- An instructive and interesting article, upon the beauties, wonders and curiosities about and connected with Niagara Falls, appeared in the National Intelligencer a few days since; but we feel disposed to criticise the writer's frequent use of the word "rod," a correct word in its place, but one that is seldom used by a southern man of letters, and the repetition of which denotes the sectional locality of the writer.

OUR MILITARY GUESTS. - At Georgetown yesterday the Law Greys, of Baltimore, and our Washington volunteers, viz: the Light Infantry, Captain Tate, and the Walker Sharpshooters, Captain Bryant, with the two bands, partook of a collation to which they were invited by the Corporation and citizens. In the evening the Washington Light Infantry entertained them in handsome style at Carusi's Saloon, where upwards of two hundred persons sat down to a sumptuous dinner, prepared by dred feet in length. The timber is for the Navy Mr. C. Columbus. This morning the Law Yard at Washington. Greys visited Alexandria, Fort Washington, and Mount Vernon, in the steamboat Washington, accompanied by the Infantry.

Quinces .- We have before us two quinces. from "Pomona," the farm of Mr. D. Clagett, each of which measures fourteen inches in circumference, and weighs eighteen ounces. They are sound, smooth and firm, and of a light, transparent-looking green. Mr. Clagett pays close attention to improving the products of his Company, arrived at this port yesterday.—Gafine farm, as his success indicates.

"American" Editors and Correspon

The New York Courier publishes a letter from a "young American girl" at Havana, who "is so situated as to know what transpires in the highest official quarters in Cuba!" This mail newspapers containing our little card "To the Pub-lic," and asking an exchange. Our offer in that has been girl is certainly highly favored. The Courier without a dissenting word. But the latter paper gave the account of an insult to the Americans at the World's Fair by a number of British aristocrats, through some straggling negro fellows picked up for the purpose, without a word in disapprobation.

The "young American girl" says:

"All that I could add in regard to the loyalty, heroic valor and discipline of our soldiers— as well as to the decided part taken by the peo ple in favor of our nationality-would be feeble picture of what has in reality taken

It is delightful to know that the Captain General is so benignant. How he has been misrepresented!

"The traitor, Don Narciso Lopez, will be executed to-morrow, suffering death by the garote vil. This infamous chief, spurious son of our country, has behaved in the most shameful manner that you can imagine. Traced by dogs like a wild beast, he fell into the hands of thos determined country people, who followed him step by step, and when he saw that his capture was certain, he cried out, 'Pardon! pardon do not kill me! for I have important revelations to make, which will save the Island of Cuba. Then in proof of his intention of giving himself up without resistance, he threw away at the same time the two pistols and the dagger which he had preserved until then. One feels ashamed of such miserable conduct in one who has worn the uniform of a Spanish General-but such is the exact truth."

This writer is tender, truthful, and American! But her letter, like most things, has an end, and here it is:

"The lesson has been severe; yet, if in spite works, which show originality of thought and great beauty of illustration. A volume of his will not be convinced, let them come and welcome. The Negro Riot and Homicide.

We yesterday gave a telegraphic account of ture and the Fine Arts" (price twenty-five cents) this affair, but as it will probably prove the is a handsome pamphlet of eighty-six pages, source of future trouble, we deem it best to re- from the press of Gould & Lincoln, Boston, and late the whole of the particulars as far as we have received them. We quote from the Baltimore American of this morning:

"A party of persons from Baltimore county, consisting of Mr. Edward Gorsuch, his son Dickenson Gorsuch, his nephew Joshua Gorsuch, Dr. Thomas Pierce, Nathan Nelson, Nicholas Hutchins, and another person, whose name we have been unable to ascertain, went into Pennsylvania for the purpose of recovering two runaway slaves, belonging to the elder Gorsuch, and who were known to be harboring in Chester county, at a small place called Christiana, between Lancaster and Philadelphia.

"The party secured the aid of a deputy United States marshal, and of several police officers from Philadelphia, and on Thursday morning proceeded to the neighborhood in which the slaves were supposed to be secreted. When near the house to which their suspicions were directed they met two negro men, one of whom was recognised by Mr. Gorsuch as his slave. The whites gave chase and the negroes ran and succeeded in getting into the house, which was closed against the pursuing parties. A horn or bugle was then sounded by the negroes in the ouse and a billet of wood was thrown from the windows, striking one of the party of whites. In the meantime a considerable crowd, mostly of blacks, began to collect around the house robably called there by the sound of the bugle

"Mr. Gorsuch and his party attempted to force their way into the upper part of the house where the blacks had fied, but finding the negroes armed with guns, scythes, and other weapons, and also finding that the crowd on weapons, and also inding that the crowd on the outside was rapidly increasing, attracted by the continued blowing of the horn, they con-cluded that it was impossible to effect the cap-ture of the negroes, and commenced a retreat from the house. As they left the house a discharge of firearms took place from the negroes in the house, and Mr. Edward Gorsuch was in stantly shot dead, a ball entering his breast near the heart, and another taking effect in the left shoulder of his son. Mr. Joshua Gorsuch and Dr. Pierce, it is said, were also wounded, and were lying at a house in the neighborhood of the scene of the conflict. An officer, said to be from Baltimore, was also wounded, though not mortally, and was afterwards taken to Colum bia, where he was lying at last accounts.

"The son of Mr. Gorsuch, after his father was killed, drew a pistol and shot dead the ne-gro who had fired the fatal shot. The crowd that collected about the house at the blowing of the horn is reported to have amounted to some two hundred, showing evidently that the ne-groes had been informed of the purpose of the Maryland party, and had made arrangements was afterwards carried out. Among the crowd who collected around the house there were a number of whites, who not only refused, when called upon by the deputy marshal, to assist in the enforcement of the law and the capture of the negroes, but actually encouraged them in their murderous outrages.

"The receipt of the intelligence of these horrible outrages has caused the most intense feeling both in Baltimore county and this city. Mr. Gorsuch resided on the York road, about twenty-four miles from the city, where he was the owner of a fine farm and valuable mill-seat. He was well known throughout the whole coun He was well known throughout the whole county, and, we may add, respected and esteemed wherever he was known. His son, and, indeed, all the parties who acted in the affair, were persons of standing and respectability, and the outrage perpetrated upon them whilst lawfully and peaceably attempting to re-possess themselves of their property cannot, of course, but be deeply felt. The slaves they were in search of ran away about a year since. were in search of ran away about a year since. It is supposed that the information which put the negroes on their guard, and enabled them to perpetrate the murders which followed, was sent from Philadelphia, where Mr. Gorsuch and his friends first went to procure the necessary legal aid. This opinion has confirmation in the statement published in the Philadelphia Inquirer, which says:

"From the best reports, we learn that the colored population in the vicinity, having been informed of the nature of the visit of the officers to Christiana, held a meeting, and asked was, as one of the most current reports state, that they should stand their ground. state Suicide.—Washington L. Underwood, one of the editors of the Helena (Ark.) Shield, put an end to his existence on the 20th ultimo, by tack on the officers was the blowing of a horn. When the officers came upon the party, they were surrounded on all sides, and a deadly fire poured upon them by the negroes.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

"Since the above was put in type we have ascertained from Mr. Merryman, conductor on the Susquehanna railroad, who came through from Columbia and Harrisburg yesterday, that young Dickenson Gorsuch is not yet though his condition is such as to render his recovery a matter of extreme doubt. He was shot in the left shoulder, and also badly beaten and bruised by blows with a club. He is still lying at a house in the neighborhood where the affray took place. Joshua Gorsuch and Dr. Peirce, though beaten and bruised by the negroes, we learn were not seriously injured. The former came on yesterday morning with the body of old Mr. Gorsuch, which was buried yesterday afternoon.
"The negroes who were active in the affray are said to have all left the vicinity, making their way towards Philadelphia. As far as w could learn no arrests had been made in the icinity where the affray took place. "It may not be amiss to say that our account
